Coal Strike Causes Order To Curtail Train Service

Reduction In Train Service In U. S. Ordered

O. D. T. Orders 25 Per Cent
Cut In Passenger Train
Service Sunday Night

ORDER IS CAUSED BY COAL STRIKE

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18

—The government today ordered passenger train service cut 25 percent, effective at midnight next Sunday, because of the coal mine walk-out coupled with "exceedingly low railroad coal stocks."

The Office of Defense Transportation order directs that the service reduction be made in locomotive mileage based on operations of March 1.

The ODT declared railroad coal stocks are considerably lower than they have been on previous occasions when mine output was stopped by strike action.

Secretary of Commerce Harman clamped an embargo on all shipments of bituminous coal "to protect dwindling supplies in the United States."

Mediator In Conference

Federal Mediation Director Cyrus Ching, seeking a solution to the walkout of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, conferred for an hour with Ezra Van Horn, mine operators' representative.

Neither Ching nor Van Horn would comment on results of the conference.

Ching's next move was a conference today with Lewis, to explore the union's side of the pension dispute which led to the mine shutdown.

Order On Trains

The ODT order would:

1. Prohibit special passenger trains if coal burning locomotives are required.
2. Ban the operation of circus trains, carnival trains and other entertainment carriers.
3. Ban the substitution of other than coal burning locomotives for the ordered reduction.
4. Prohibit the accumulation of mileage reduction in excess of 25 percent used for special passenger train operation.

The ODT declared that "exceedingly low railroad coal stocks, coupled with the stoppage in coal production," made today's action imperative.

Coal Stocks Low

"Railroad stocks today are considerably lower than they have been on previous occasions when stoppages in coal production have interfered with railroad operations."

The agency authorized each railroad to cancel passenger reservations and take whatever action is necessary to carry out the order.

The ODT explained that it will issue special and general permits to meet specific needs and special emergencies which the order may create.

The result of Ching's talks may determine whether President Truman will set in motion the emergency machinery of the Taft-Hartley act that could culminate in another coal injunction against Lewis and his 400,000 soft coal miners.

One big question the government would like answered is whether the current stoppage is a full-dress strike or merely a spring "vacation" by the mine workers which Lewis might decide to terminate at an early date.

Russians Get Only Brief Report Of Truman's Speech

MOSCOW, March 18.—(INS)—The Soviet press and radio circulated only brief accounts today of President Truman's declaration that Russia is fostering communist aggression and hamstringing the United Nations.

Newspapers carried a report by Tass, official Soviet agency, which said the speech "contained attacks addressed to the Soviet Union and countries of east and central Europe."

The Moscow radio broadcast a short news bulletin about the address, saying:
"At yesterday's joint session of Congress Mr. Truman made a speech in which he asserted that rapid changes, touching upon the foreign policy and national security of the United States, were taking place in Europe."

"Mr. Truman recommended immediate introduction of military conscription, establishment of general military training and rapid passing of the Marshall Plan."

"The speech contained attacks on the Soviet Union and countries of east and central Europe."

"It welcomed the signing of the Brussels military pact."

Those who long for liberation from Communist domination saw in the President's speech a bright ray of hope.

The principal question being asked in western diplomatic circles in such Soviet satellite states as Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary is "Will it stop Russia?"

Those quarters believe strongly that if American Congress approval of Mr. Truman's recommendations fails to check Soviet expansionism in Europe a third world war is inevitable.

One high ranking western European diplomat stationed in Prague said:
"If the Kremlin concludes that Truman is not bluffing and the United States is willing to fight to save the rest of Europe from communism, peace may be preserved."

"If, on the other hand, the Soviets think Truman is bluffing and the United States is not prepared to fight, then Moscow's campaign for conquest in Europe without war and through 'Trojan Horse' tactics will be pursued relentlessly."

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—Revival of selective service in line with President Truman's recommendation to Congress would syphon into the armed forces approximately 270,000 Pennsylvanians between the ages of 18 and 25.

Based on experience of the Commonwealth's wartime selective service system, nine per cent of the nation's draftees would come from the Keystone state.

Army authorities estimated that approximately 3,000,000 youths within the 18-25 age group would be eligible on a nationwide basis for conscription if the draft is revived.

Pennsylvania military and selective service officials admittedly "don't know" the exact effect of institution of the draft would have on the state.

"It probably would be similar to the previous draft law, but in a less exacting peacetime form," one spokesman said.

Men with prior service undoubtedly would be deferred, he added.

Communists Assail Truman's Speech Of Yesterday As "War Mongering"

PRAGUE, March 18.—Liberty-seeking people behind Russia's iron curtain in Europe praised President Truman's attack on Communist aggression today while Communists themselves assailed the address as extreme war mongering.

Tragedy Ends Chicago Dance

Third Floor Collapses—One Woman Killed—Over
100 Hurt

CHICAGO, March 18.—(INS)—Thousands of awe-stricken spectators gaped today on the ruins of a dance hall on Chicago's North Side where a third floor collapsed suddenly during a gay St. Patrick's Day dance, killing one woman and injuring more than 100 merry-makers.

Irish gaiety was turned into sudden panic last night when the floor dropped and catapulted the shrieking dancers into the billiard room on the second floor of the Lakeview Bowling Alley.

The celebrants were dancing to the tune of "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" when the groans of yielding timber and piercing screams filled the hall as the dance floor vanished from sight.

Almost simultaneously a portion of the third story ceiling dropped and piled more debris on the shrieking dancers below.

The dead woman was Mrs. Ann Hunt, 35, a native of Galway, Ireland. (Continued on Page Two)

Forrestal Says War Veterans Will Be Exempt

World War II Veterans Not To Be Called Under Temporary Draft Plan

SERVICE WILL BE TWO YEARS AT LEAST

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Secretary of Defense Forrestal told Congress today that World War II veterans would be exempt from the temporary draft asked by President Truman and Army Secretary Royall said the selective service call would be for "not less than two years" duty.

Forrestal said the draft program would have a reservoir of about three million men beyond the Universal Military Training age limits—or roughly between 19 and 23.

Will Not Affect War Veterans
The defense secretary declared that the "fundamental basis" of the draft plan was that it would not affect veterans of World War II.

The cabinet officer also disclosed that he will ask an increase in the authorized strength of the army, navy and air force.

The defense chief said he has not yet determined how large an addition he will request for the regular services.

Present armed service authorized strength is one million, 300 thousand men.

Forrestal made the announcement when he appeared before the Senate armed services committee in support of President Truman's program for temporary resumption of selective service and universal military training.

Forrestal pointed out that Congress set the existing authorization two years ago and said that it "was based on assumptions that failed to materialize."

350,000 Below Strength
The regular army establishment today is 350,000 below the existing authorized strength, he testified.

Forrestal revealed that a special board has recommended an increase for the three services. He added:

"I shall approve that recommendation."

"But, as to the exact extent of the increase, I shall reserve my own recommendations until I have an exact study made."

Without mentioning Russia or Communism by name, Forrestal made it clear that it has been Soviet aggression which upset the time-table and made a revision in the strength of the standing forces necessary.

Forrestal said that the one million, 300 thousand authorization—unfilled by what he termed "the most successful voluntary recruitment program we ever had"—contemplated the withdrawal of larger numbers of troops from occupied areas than has been possible.

Asks Universal Training
Appealing for Universal Military Training, Forrestal declared that the feeling that the atomic bomb makes large armies unnecessary is a "delusion." He said:

"The simple truth is that more and more men have to be trained to meet the threat of war."

"Future wars will be indiscriminate in their targets and universal in their effects."

Forrestal told the committee that the "fundamental basis" of the temporary draft was that it would not affect veterans of World War II.

He said the selective service (Continued from Page One)

Comes now the time for speeches of various candidates, who wangle invitations to clam bakes and debates. They stand for civic virtue and assuring that's good, would they assume the people's role, yes bet they would. They kiss the tiny babies and compliment the mums, and pass out villainous cigars to uncles and to pawns. They want to serve the people, (of course at handsome pay) this is the season of the year, it's 48 today.

Sen. Maybank (D) S. C., interrupted to ask what draft period was being considered for the temporary selective service program.

Secretary of the army Royall replied: "Not less than two years' service for explained that the three million man pool would include both men eligible but not drafted in the last years of the war, and those who would become 19 before UMT is 100 percent effective."

MAKE AWARDS IN "SESQUE" CONTEST

Miss Nannie Mitchell, principal of George Washington High, and James E. Leasure, Jr., staff photographer of the New Castle News.

In addition to the prize winning sketches, a second drawing by Harold Lose and one by Ina DuPont were given serious consideration by the judges. Numerous ideas were incorporated in the 46 sketches submitted by the art students, with the most prominent of these being scenes representative of the founding of the city in 1798 and the modern city of 1948.

The results of the contest were very gratifying and the Sesqui-Centennial Committee expressed their thanks to all contestants and extended congratulations to the three winning artists.

The "bungalow" is patterned after the thatched roof cottages of India.

iron curtain are not aware of what the American President said.

Those who do know have contacts with western diplomatic quarters or learned about the speech by listening to shortwave American and British news broadcasts.

The pro-westerners among those were greatly encouraged, feeling that President Truman now has given Russia a clear warning to choose between war and peace.

One important non-Communist expressed a belief that the declaration and its accompanying recommendations undoubtedly will intensify the fear of war among the common people behind the iron curtain when they do learn something about Mr. Truman's statement. He added:

"Unfortunately there now are many people in this and other countries under Soviet domination who believe that the only way their freedom will be restored is through war."

GOLDEN WEDDING OF ELLWOOD RESIDENTS

In a gilded souvenir album were recorded the names of the many friends and relatives who shared in the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Anderson, of 436 Glen avenue, Ellwood City, on March 10.

The bride and bridegroom of March 10, 1898 were honored by a family dinner that evening in the dining room of the Ellwood City U. P. church.

Dinner was served to 19 members of the immediate family and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Minter by the King's Daughters class of which Mrs. Anderson is a member.

Carrying out the "golden" theme, yellow and white flowers, tapers, and an anniversary cake decorated the tables.

Betty, Mary Ethel, Jane, Jordis, and Linnea Anderson, granddaughters of the honor guests, favored with two vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Dorothy Jean Anderson, also a granddaughter. Blaine Anderson, a grandson, played a piano solo.

Nearly 150 attended the reception given from 7 to 9 o'clock by the couple's four sons and their wives and families in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean Anderson, of 303 Pershing street, Ewing Park, Ellwood City.

Refreshments were served at a table attractively decorated with a centerpiece of yellow and white flowers and yellow tapers.

Aiding in pouring were Mrs. W. E. Minter, of Ellwood City, Mrs. A. Kroll, of Fombell R. D. 1, Mrs. John T. Miller, of Butler R. D. 5, and Mrs. W. E. Snare, of Wampum.

Out-of-town guests were from New Castle, Wampum, Butler and Zelienople.

Many lovely cards and gifts were received by the honor guests.

WOMEN OF MOOSE INITIATE MEMBERS

At social service chapter night of the Women of the Moose Wednesday in the Moose hall, four new members were initiated at an impressive ritualistic service conducted by Mrs. Elgin McConnell. Mrs. William Pitzer, social chairman, Mrs. Huldah Doerr, Mrs. McConnell, and Mrs. Charles Jamison were in charge.

As speaker the group heard Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive secretary of the Red Cross, introduced by Mrs. Pitzer. Mrs. McConnell gave a very interesting talk on the services rendered by the Red Cross and showed the correlation of services for varied needs by the Red Cross and other social agencies.

It is planned to set up a Red Cross blood bank here by fall for Lawrence County residents, she said, as has already been done in a number of communities.

As one example of rather unusual community service she cited the cafeteria set up for the Jewelers Training School by the Red Cross Nutrition committee.

Activities of the Moose ladies' contributions in the field of social service include the following: the Community Chest, pocket books for Deshon hospital and records for Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals, 17 Christmas baskets for needy families at Christmas; the Tuberculosis society, the Margaret Henry Home, the Jameson Hospital expansion fund, and sewing for a west side nursing home.

At the close of the evening a lunch was served by Mrs. Pitzer. Mrs. Rose Bishop, Mrs. Ina Cleavelly, Mrs. Mary Perry and Mrs. Alice Clark.

Next regular meeting will be April 7.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS CLUB PLANS DINNER

At the meeting of the Friendly Relations club held in the home of Mrs. Anthony Dominick, Pearson street, Tuesday evening, plans were discussed for an anniversary dinner to be held on April 17.

Afterwards card playing was the pastime, high score trophies going to Mrs. Harlan Mone and Mrs. Michael Gennaula.

Special guest was Mrs. Joseph Leta, and she received a lovely gift. A dainty lunch was served at a later hour by the hostess.

April 7, is the meeting with Mrs. Anthony Churazzi, 933 Adams street.

"COBAN HOLIDAY" DINNER FOR CLASS

Carrying out as a theme, "A Cuban Holiday," an annual banquet of the Queen Esther class of the Third U. P. church was an event of Tuesday evening in the dining room of the church.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at a table decorated with miniature palm trees and at each place a passport containing the picture of each guest together with the menu which was written in Spanish and the program. Centering the speakers' table was a tray of tropical fruits native to the island of Cuba.

Invocation was given by Dr. J. Paul Graham.

Keys to the islands were presented to the outgoing president of the class, Mrs. William Bryan, by the toastmistress, Miss Mabel Kocher, who in turn gave them to the new president, Miss Leona Nolan at the close of the program.

An imaginary tour of the islands led by Miss Betty Gray opened the program after which Miss Edith Sherbine, of this city, who at one time lived in Cuba and attended the university there, gave a very interesting talk about her experiences and impressions of Cuba.

Senor Emilio Alvarez, of Cuba, pleased the group by singing a number of Cuban songs.

A skit entitled "The Newlyweds" was given by Mrs. C. C. McDermott after which a congo line, Miss Anne Carrick, Miss Marietta Daugherty, and Miss Mildred McKibben pantomimed a recording of "Manana".

"We Shook the Family Tree," a one-act play was presented by the senior high school dramatics club under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff.

Concluding the program, Mrs. William Mooney arrived, on bicycle, for a shopping tour.

Gifts were then presented to Mrs. Bernard Hook, teacher of the class, Mrs. Bryan, retiring president, Miss Sherbine, and Senor Alvarez.

Mrs. Plummer Gibson, superintendent of the Sunday school, Bernard Hook, and Dr. Graham each spoke briefly.

Three out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. Donaldson, of Carrollton, O.; Mrs. David Jones, of Warren, O.; and Mrs. Jack Ellis of Youngstown, O.

Committees responsible for the success of the evening were program, Mrs. Jack Kenehan, Mrs. William Mooney, Mrs. Findley Boyd, and Miss Mabel Kocher, decorating, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, and Mrs. Thomas Backeyfield.

Next meeting of the class will be Tuesday evening, April 20, the place to be announced.

Entertaining jointly, the Misses Olive Wright and Angeline Dinare were hostesses at a personal shower for Miss Nikki Masterson, bride-elect, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Campbell, Boston avenue, on the evening of March 13.

Cards and games were played during the evening and afterward a dainty lunch was served with the aid of Miss Jean Campbell.

The honoree was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts. Miss Masterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Masterson, of 1414 Laurel place, will become the bride of George Lamorella, son of M2 and Mrs. Vincent Lamorella, of 215 East Friendship street, on Saturday, April 3, at 9 a. m. in St. Vitus church.

SENATE FIGHT IS CLOSE

Although President Truman's chances for reelection have been somewhat frostbitten by Democratic opposition on the extreme right and the extreme left, Republicans are not indulging in any premature celebrations so far as Congress is concerned.

It is generally admitted that if the Republicans elect a President he will carry a Republican House along with him. The story in the Senatorial contest, however, is somewhat different, and it is admittedly possible that the Republicans may elect a President and at the same time lose control of the Senate if the general result is in any way close.

Just at present the Senate is made up of 51 Republicans and 45 Democrats. This is not a wide margin. Furthermore, there are 18 Republicans and 14 Democrats coming up for reelection. Even this, however, does not present the entire Republican handicap. Of the 14 Democrats up for reelection, ten are from the Solid South and these will undoubtedly be reelected even if the South refuses to go along with President Truman.

On the other hand, the Republicans will have a fight in every one of the eighteen States where the Republicans must contest to hold a Senatorial seat. The fight will be especially serious in the border States of Oklahoma and Kentucky, where two G.O.P. Senators are coming up. Senator Ed Moore, Republican of Oklahoma, very popular in his home State, will not run again because of ill health. It is always hard to carry the State for the G.O.P. even under the best of conditions.

In Kentucky Republican Senator Cooper will seek reelection. The Republicans carried the Blue Grass State in the landslide of 1946 but lost it by a big majority in 1947. This means the Kentucky Republicans will have a steep uphill fight this year. Another border State which the G.O.P. will have to fight hard to hold, in the Senatorial election, is West Virginia. There will be hard fights, too, in New Jersey, where the Republicans have factional troubles, and in Idaho, Illinois and in Michigan, which contains the big Democratic city of Detroit.

Of course the Democratic factional fight will help the Republicans, but so far as Senators are concerned it can be taken for granted the Southern voters will support the regular Democratic candidates for the Senate, most of whom, if not all, will be seeing eye to eye with them. All of which explains why the Republicans will pay especial attention to Senatorial elections this year. They start out with a big handicap because of the political color of the States in which Senatorial elections are to be held.

LEAVE US ALONE WEEK

Those business men in Douglas, Ga., who have endorsed a "Leave Us Alone Week" for April 1, 8 may have started something big. It could easily have a mushroom growth and turn into a landslide sweeping everything in its wake.

There aren't many Americans who haven't felt, at moments, just as these Georgians do about all the "weeks" that promoters of causes have been perpetrating on the public. They say they are being "driven to bankruptcy by all the drives going on." They see "more money-raisers than customers" every day. They think "too many people are trying to take" them before Uncle Sam gets his every quarter.

Statistics on how many weeks have been set aside for this or that are not available, but the number must run about 52 when two and even three run concurrently, as they do sometimes. Many of the setter-asides have good causes to forward, beyond any doubt, but the idea has been run into the ground by repetition and competition and the objects of all these efforts have been run ragged. The Douglasites have a legitimate complaint.

So a lot of others in the same boat would like to cooperate in a national "Leave Us Alone Week." It would be a welcome relief to have at least one week when no solicitors would call for a contribution and no organization would remind editors, for the sake of publicity, that this is national something-or-other week.

A fashion authority says it is not true grandmother had more clothes than the modern girl. She just put on more at one time.

Who has the clearer enunciation—the train announcer at the Union Station or the independent tobacco auctioneer on the radio?

A tunnel in Colorado is called the longest bore in America, but may have the title wrested from it before the presidential campaign is ended.

Party leaders who are hoping Truman bows out of the presidential race should remember this is no time to be going back into the haberdashery business.

Uncle Sam must have been asleep at the switch or he would have joined the race for the South Pole regions. This country will need them for parking space.

In View Of News Of The World

Disclosure that Soviet Russia has unlimited her bumper grain crop as a powerful new weapon in Europe's political war fulfills the prediction of many Marshall Plan supporters.

They had regarded it as a foregone conclusion that such a step would be taken ever since the Kremlin announced unambiguously that it would do everything in its power to sabotage the American recovery plan for Europe.

Bargaining Points
Food and cigarettes are probably the most powerful bargaining points in Europe today and the Russians know it.

They have made good on every commodity commitment made to the satellite nations on the continent. They have even delivered large shipments of grain to England and certainly their resourceful propagandists have taken shrewd advantage of every opportunity.

There even are reports that canny Soviet exporters have resorted to some rare trickery to popularize themselves.

From time immemorial American cigarettes have been sought out by the European people, sometimes even at prohibitive prices. One of the Russian dodges is said to be the packaging of cigarettes like American ones in familiarly colored and designed paper and tin-foil and selling them in large quantities at a low figure.

Only when the package is examined is it found to bear the legend "Made in the U.S.S.R." with a Red star or a hammer and sickle thrown in. They may not taste like American cigarettes but the imagination at least is stimulated and the price is cheap.

Make Sure Beneficiaries Known
The Russians always make sure that their beneficiaries know where the handouts are coming from.

For many months, American and UNRRA shipments to European countries arrived in packing cases that carried little more than a small stenciled marking that revealed the place of origin.

In contrast, Joseph Stalin's big Red star and frequently his own countenance are much in evidence all over Soviet parcels and packages. Communist pamphlets are sometimes handed out as well, with the inevitable effect that this constant thumb-thumbing makes an impression on the people.

There have been charges that the Russians and Yugoslavs have diverted American packages, repacking them in Soviet containers to lend added weight to the campaign. These may be exaggerations although some isolated cases probably have occurred.

One of the most significant factors in connection with the "grain war" is the fact that breadlines have been forming in Moscow.

This probably is due to a number of factors, including poor transportation, shortage of rolling stock, war-damaged railways and the like.

But the Russians have made extremely heavy commitments abroad, always with the spread of Communism in mind, and the people at home perhaps are being conditioned to get along with less for the sake of their so-called "peoples' democracies." The rulers of the Kremlin have no compunction about taking strong measures to gain their ends.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A group of nine Frenchmen has returned to Paris to report to its countrymen that American women and men don't know how to dress.

The nine just finished a concert tour of the United States, and like so many foreign visitors, consider themselves authorities on our country after having spent a few weeks in it.

Our women don't understand color, said Jean-Louis Jaubert, spokesman for the group. They wear meaningless hats. They lack the "clothes instinct" of the Frenchwoman.

Boston came in for their particular criticism, as far as taste in clothes is concerned. The "chapeaux" of the Boston women were characterized as "bewildering."

Miami was the only place where they saw girls wearing gold evening slippers during the day.

American bathing suits are "adequate," according to the group, but not as daring as the French. Dresses are too long. Skirts are too full and swishy. Shoes are too eccentric. Clothes are loud at the wrong time, but, "when they should shout they just whisper" (whatever that means).

American men are even worse, said Monsieur Jaubert. Their lapels are too wide. The patterns of their suits he called "lobster patterns" and the styles "Sloppy Joe styles."

In his opinion, the men's clothes sold in good American stores could not even find customers in a Parisian bargain basement.

But the most horrifying tastelessness of the American man is his ties.

"For wearing one of those ties that look like half-cooked omelettes," said Jaubert, and he was backed up by the other eight with groans, "a man would be jailed in France."

However, he made a couple of concessions.

American women are beautiful. They are charming. They are intelligent. They have talent. But they cannot dress.

Altogether, these nine, who, by the way, call themselves "Les Compagnons de la Chanson," are happy to get back to their own country, where both the women and the men have taste.

Incidentally, all nine took with them quite a few clothes they bought in this country, but taste and furthermore, two of them also took along American brides. Two more have proposed to American girls but, at this writing, have not yet been accepted.

I haven't been in France since the war. But I remember that the last time I was there, I was told that the democratic party is understandable. This kind of inter-

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Oh but that these words might stand forever:

OUR TOWN

Nestled close in a wide fertile valley.
Our town throws a light night and day.
To keep the eyes of its sons turned homeward
From ports of duty on the world's highway.
Surrounded by the green of its hills in spring
Or steeped in the gold of autumn's glory.
Our town throws a gleam of heavenly peace.
That guards and protects like a heartfelt story.

There is peace and a richness of life
That covers this space between earth and sky;
There is a spirit of faith that comes from on High
With rich rewards that will never die.
There is music that puts words into the heart.
And words to soften the most despondent frown;
There are smiles and cheery "hellos" to start
The day, and help us to carry on in our town.

There is health and happiness in the living green
Of the rambling hills when summer charms beguile;
There is a stillness and peace when snow covers
Our town, and lights in the houses send a smile
That carries across land and sea in memory.

There is laughter and shoutings that ring
From hill to hill — and it gives a lift to the heart
As it renews the sound that loved ones bring.

The war is over; we have won the battle.
And the peace was drawn for men to sign;
The boys we sent to war are returning as men —
Men that stood deep in mud and slime —
But always they could see the light of home.

The green of the hills, or autumn's brown,
The snow, the rain, or the smiling sun, bright
And warm in the light that beckoned to our town.

Now, may peace forever reign on our land;
May we build and create from our heritage —
The heritage of love for peace and freedom
That our nation has fought to assuage;
And may peace fall on our youth as well.

For while they march there can be no crown
On liberty. Nations have armed and fell
Before the right of peace in your town, and OUR TOWN.

Washington Calling

Need Political Self Restraint

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The first gob of campaign mud is here on my desk. It is a book called "Missouri Waltz," to be published early in April. On the cover is a convict photograph of the "Boss" Tom Pendergast of Kansas City with the number assigned to him when he went into Leavenworth penitentiary.

There is nothing very new that can be told about Harry S. Truman's relationship with the Pendergast machine which, in the final phase, became so vicious and corrupt. But it can be dressed up again for campaign purposes, just as the Moscow radio is dressing up the wicked spectre of bossism linked to corrupt capitalism for the purposes of another kind of campaign.

If a time ever called for self-restraint, that time is now. The Republicans, with a little sober reflection, will surely realize that they can afford self-restraint.

Truman's Defeat Assured
They can't afford it because Mr. Truman's defeat is assured. Two factors alone would have assured his defeat—one the defection of the right in the southern states, and the other the splitting off of the extreme left with Henry Wallace and the Communist manipulators. Many other causes are at work but there is little point in discussing them.

We are living in a perilous interregnum it will endure for more than nine months. Mr. Truman might have decided at some point after November, 1946, to demonstrate the inherent weakness of our constitutional system by resigning in favor of a Republican, which would have been perfectly possible and legal under the constitution.

He apparently never seriously considered the course, taking even the suggestion as a slur on his courage and integrity. So we see him standing before a congress that has repeatedly ignored and repudiated him. The vote of no confidence in November, 1946, has echoed again and again in congress, and the world knows it as well as we do here at home.

Rare Virtue
Self restraint is, to be sure, a rare virtue. The temptation at this point to dance on the corpse of the democratic party is understandable. This kind of inter-

Restraint is needed above all to stop the warfare now going on between the executive and legislative branches of the government. The Republican invasion of private and confidential functions of the executive branch is producing chaos. This is not government. This business of deliberately pillorying conscientious public servants and demanding access to private documents. It is anarchy.

The dark threat across the world should be enough in itself to deduce a reasonable self-restraint. (Continued on Page Five) num invites the excesses of victory, and the Republican regulars have waited a long time.

After 1930, poor Herbert Hoover was caught in the same trap. In my opinion he never even approached an adequate plan for curing and checking the depression. But if he had had the most perfect and far-reaching plan in the world, the Democrats riding high on the House would have thrown it out.

And one of the rebels was John Nance Garner, who has today become such a hero of the ultra-conservatives.

In 1921, the crisis of depression threatened the entire nation. Banks and factories were shutting down and food was rotting on the farms while millions were hungry. The crisis this time is, if anything, more grave. It is the threat of a war that might be avoided by steady, firm resolution and a broad show of unity. The war that threatens can last for years. It can cost infinitely more in precious lives and treasure than the last holocaust.

One Man's Opinion

There is medical news that allergic children have a high content of electricity. That may explain why so many shock their parents.

But it offers some encouragement to the student to go on. If he can't top 75 in English he may hit 110 on the volt meter.

When anyone asks now "Are your children bright?" They mean do they have enough allergies to light up a juke box.

It must be an allergy. . . . There must be some explanation for lighting up a juke box.

Lehigh University professors are blowing a fuse since the students announced that they would start rating their instructors.

I hear one prof. said "When I have to lug a basket of apples to my students it's time to give up teaching and start selling the apples."

They Say
PARIS — Carlo Sforza, Italian Foreign Minister. . . . "I would rather die than live under any totalitarian regime. The Communists will be repudiated in the April elections."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barkley (D) Ky. . . . "President Truman might present a situation which would make it utterly futile to try to cut taxes. We are awaiting the President's message before we act."

WASHINGTON — Rep. Buchanan (D) Pa. commenting on rent control bill: "Wholesale evictions and higher rents are in prospect. . . . It's a reckless abdication of power on the part of Congress."

CHICAGO — Vivien Kellems, Westport, Conn., industrialist. . . . "The Marshall Plan is a colossal deception and sellout of the American people. . . . It's a worldwide socialist movement hatched by Britain's Ernest Bevin. It's a scheme to grab billions of dollars from the American taxpayers to keep Bevin and his socialist regime in power."

That Report "Hitler's Alive"

By PAUL GALLICO

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 18.—Did you read that piece in the paper last week where the former German pilot, Ernest Baumgart, insists that Hitler is still alive and had escaped from Berlin shortly before Germany surrendered?

If he is, how the little man must be burning up as he realizes in 1948 what a thorn game he played ten years ago, and what a sucker he was. Boy, that's punishment. That's worse than being pilloried, or hanged, or drawn and quartered, to have to look back on the days when you thought you were a big shot and face the fact that you were a chump as a world conqueror, and that the other gang is really going at it in a Big-Time way.

Take the instance of Adolf's preparation for the revolution that was to throw the U. S. A. into the Fascist camp. Who was the Fuehrer delegated to operate his American fifth column? Fritz Kuhn, a fat and larcenous nitwit with an eye for the ladies. He organized a number of marching and chowder bands, got some thick-skulled American industrialists to contribute dough to his mob of pretzel benders, signed an alliance with the Ku Klux Klan, and himself wound up in the cooler for getting caught with his hand in the cash register.

Couldn't Muster Strength
When the showdown came, the Bund and all the native Fascists combined couldn't have mustered enough strength to take over a Third Avenue street car. It turned out that the only real danger to the American war effort were the Communists.

If Adolf is getting the American papers these days, he must be trying, to read how Uncle Joe works it and what a monkey he is making out of Hitler and the Hitler method wherever the Red hand reaches. Who were the four Commies picked up by the F. B. I. and held for deportation for quietly doing their job of sabotaging the nation? Guys you never heard of. Men trained to remain anonymous and out of the public prints. No uniforms, no marching, just the quiet, deadly every-day work of infiltrating the labor unions, promoting class warfare and undermining the health of the nation, bit by bit, day by day, hour by hour, building up the nest of traitors, not only in the unions, but in every walk of life, the men and women whose job it will be to hamstring America when the time is ripe.

Must Be "Burned Up"
Hitler must bust every time he reads about Henry Wallace and his Third Party. HE never had a guy in there pitching for president with Fascist backing, the way Uncle Josef has his Commies whipping it up for him. The best Adolf ever achieved was a couple of hamfatted congressmen who spouted the Fascist line. Joe really has a dilly running for him. Not that Brother Henry is a communist, or that Joe put him in to splitting the ticket, but the fact remains that the Commies ARE backing him, Henry is in there talking up that other cheek business with the Russians, and only harm can come to the U. S. A. and aid and comfort to the Reds from his performance. Hitler was just a babe.

Old Toothbrush Mustache must be splitting as he contemplates the Commie Czechoslovakian snafu. He had to roll in with tanks and guns and armored vehicles and put on a show of force that turned the whole world sour on him. Old Joe got the same results without ever stirring out of the Kremlin. The blast is on him and he can say innocently, "Who me? Why I've never been to Prague in my life. It's those Czech Communists," and defy anyone to prove otherwise. Of course, everybody knows who engineered the hoist, but the point is you didn't see photographs of him doing it like that dumb bunny Hitler.

These are smart, smart babies we're up against, ladies and gents. Hitler didn't believe it and look where he is—either dead, or reading all about it in the exchanges, and vengeful.

It is permissible for a college girl to speak to a man whom she sees frequently on the campus and who is a member of her class, whether she has been formally introduced or not. At some colleges everybody speaks after the big all-college party at the first week-end.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE YANKEE TRADER
At one time in our history a Yankee horse trader was the synonym for shrewdness, judgment and a spirit of venture. Frequently he started out with a crippled nag and ran his holdings into quite a sum in sound horse flesh. But Yankee trading craft was not limited to the swappers of horse flesh. All over the world there was welcome and respect for the Yankee trader who came by ship. Some- how he managed to give what peoples in other lands—especially out-of-the-way lands—wanted most and managed to work out a highly profitable exchange. In some quarters there was a tendency—mostly on the part of the jealous—to condemn the Yankee bargainer as a sort of cheat; but the record seems to be that in his exchanges he usually left a general satisfaction behind him.

He builded a fortune to leave at the last.
He proved he was clever, deserving of praise.
He was pleased at the top of his field to be classed.
But, sitting alone and reviewing his days,
Though proud of his fame and the goals he had won,
He was prouder of some little good he had done.

He remembered his struggle to come to success.
Was glad that of triumph at last he could boast.
But it seemed not enough merely things to possess.
And he found they were not what he valued the most.
As over his years he let memory run.
He was prouder of some little thing he had done.

Tis conquest, he'd learned, which best pleases the throng.
But tarnish comes quickly to cups on a shelf.
And though fortune and fame to him rightly belong,
A man wants at last to be proud of himself.

Highway Traffic Within 5 Per Cent Of Prewar Figure

Almost Three Million Cars Travel
Pennsylvania Highways During August Of 1947

HARRISBURG — Traffic on Pennsylvania highways during 1947 was 9.9 per cent higher than the year previous.

Data tabulated from the permanently located recorders maintained by the Department of Highways shows that 25,497,161 vehicles were checked last year as compared with 23,203,858 for the 12 months ending December 31, 1946.

On the basis of these figures traffic has not yet reached pre-war totals. The Department's records show that 1947 traffic was 5.5 per cent below the 1941 totals. That year 26,974,129 vehicles were recorded by the machines.

August is the month of peak traffic according to the department's records. Last year 2,754,119 vehicles were recorded by the machines during August, as compared with 2,407,707 for the same month of 1946. And 2,976,885 for the corresponding month of 1941.

Recorded traffic in January and October last year was greater than the same months of 1941. However, the other months of the year showed less traffic than the pre-war year.

In all three years February traffic was the lowest. During 1947 recorded traffic in February was below that for 1946. Traffic in March 1946, also was higher than last year.

None of the months of 1946 showed a greater volume of traffic than 1941.

But there is another consideration which, while less important, has a bearing on our conduct at this time.

From the screams of outraged virtue that rise up, one would think Mr. Truman was the first product of machine politics in the United States. You get the strange impression that a machine never existed before Pendergast took over Kansas City.

Too Familiar Feature
In pursuing Mr. Truman—and the baying of the pack in full cry is not a pleasant sound—we may want to forget that you and you and you and I made the machine possible by our indifference to and contempt of politics—or because the machine served our own private and profitable interests.

Machines, Republican and Democratic, have been a too familiar feature of the political landscape. The Penrose machine in Pennsylvania was no aggregation of angels.

The victory snake dance, if it goes on through the next nine months, can do incalculable harm. Self-restraint is not a luxury because the Republicans can so well afford it. And the need for it is so desperate.

KEEPING A STRAIGHT BACK

"I must typewrite all day long, as a result of which my back tires and is inclined to droop. Can you give me any suggestions for avoiding this tired feeling?"

Answer: Train yourself always to sit forward on the edge of your chair so that you occupy only the front quarter of it. Soldiers are taught this trick for the maintenance of straight backs. Sitting all way back in a chair always gives you a tendency to slump into a spinal curvature which if not corrected in time may become chronic.

If you have already developed round shoulders correct them with these simple exercises before your mirror:

Bend your head as far back as you can, making an arch with the small of your back but not moving your hips or stomach. Do this six times, then stand perfectly still, raise the upper part of your chest as much as you can possibly stretch it. Do this six times also. Then stand with your heels, calves, lower back, shoulders and the back of your head flat against the wall. Tense your whole body in this position, then relax it completely. While repeating this six times assure yourself that you will thereafter hold yourself that way. If, when you sit or walk, you will always hold up your diaphragm, this will automatically throw your shoulders back to the proper position and give you a graceful carriage.

Question: I am sending invitations to my wedding and would like to know if it is proper to send one to the groom's mother, brothers and sister who live in another city.

Answer: Yes, wedding invitations should be sent to all members of the groom's family, as well as to all members of the wedding party. This should be done despite the fact that you are assured that all will attend the wedding.

Present your problems to Miss Marrel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Twenty-Six Fail To Seek Election

Nineteen Republicans And Seven Democrats Retire
From State Race

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, March 18. — (INS)—Nineteen Republicans and seven Democrats who served during the 1947 session of the General Assembly failed to file for re-election, according to the State Elections Bureau. The list included former Speaker Ellwood J. Turner, Delaware Republican, who announced he would not be a candidate shortly before his death two weeks ago. Also on the list was former Speaker Ira T. Fiss (R) Snyder, a member of the House since 1936. Fiss was speaker during the 1943 and 1945 sessions and was rebuffed in his attempt to win the post during the last session. Oldest in point of service to how out of the House was Harry P. O'Neill (D) Lackawanna who entered the legislature in 1929. Walter Rose, who served from 1939 to 1944 and in the last session, resigned from the House after he was elected Republican mayor of Johnstown.

Others who failed to file were: John L. Gorman (R), John C. Walton (R), Walter B. Kean (R), and Earl Chudoff (D), all of Philadelphia; Thomas Mooney (D), T. Emmet Horan (R), Donald F. Davidson (R), Thomas Barrett (D), and Norman Laughner (R), all of Allegheny; Charles W. Tittle, David P. Reese and William H. Bonawitz, all Dauphin Republicans; W. Penn Hoopes (R), Chester; Joseph Dague (R), Clearfield; M. C. Chervanek, Jr., (D), Cambria; Julian Polaski and Homer Cook, Erie Republicans; William Serrill (R) Forest; Stephen M. Nelson (R) Franklin; Felix Bentzel (D), and Chester Wolf, both of York; and D. A. Livingstone (R) Lackawanna.

U. S. Attorney General Tom C. Clark's statement that legislation barring Communists from the ballot would be of "doubtful validity" pointed up the effectiveness of a law against Red candidates enacted during the 1941 session. The act sets up a board of the governor, the attorney general and the secretary of state to consider whether a person, whose candidacy is controversial, shall be barred from the state ballot. It is aimed primarily at combatting persons who advocate overthrow of the government by force. It was used by former Governor James to bar a Communist party candidate from the ballot shortly after enactment. However, the law was not invoked when a Communist ran for office in Philadelphia a year or so ago.

A fiscal report on the state-operated cafeteria at the Capitol indicates something soon may be leached on administration and financing of the supposedly non-profit venture. The report is understood to show a deficit although the cafeteria's prices are comparable to those in the better-than-average restaurants in downtown Harrisburg.

Old line Republicans at the State Capitol are wondering whether Governor Duff's departure from accepted Republican dogma will spark dissension among leaders on the county level. It is a fact that on major appointments Duff passes over the recommendations of county GOP bosses and makes his own decisions. For example, Liquor Board member Charles McGovern, of Pittsburgh, and Superior Court Judge John Fine, of Ashley, both were known as leaders in the faction headed by the late Gifford Pinchot and not exactly known as organization men. Lancaster County Commissioner G. Graybill, 11 Diehm, appointed to the State Tax Equalization Board only to resign later, supported Pinchot in his fight with Arthur James in the 1938 gubernatorial primary.

Secretary Harriman Says Steel Shortage Is Grave Problem

WASHINGTON, March 18.— (INS)—Secretary of Commerce Harriman declared Wednesday that the steel shortage is still "our basic problem" but that the United States must continue to export steel products.

Harriman said that "no material in such short supply as steel should be permitted to flow freely from our markets to foreign countries." He added:

"But it would be just as short sighted to prohibit any exports whatever of a material so basic to world economic recovery and development."

Harriman expressed his views in a letter to the Senate Small Business committee which has been investigating the current steel shortage.

Today's Question About Red Cross

Does the Red Cross give financial aid to veterans?

Financial assistance is given from Red Cross chapter funds, on the basis of need, to disabled veterans and their dependents and to dependents of deceased veterans, for basic maintenance during the temporary period pending receipt of federal disability or death benefits and during periods when such benefits are delayed or interrupted.

When one-half the Plymouth colony of Pilgrims died during their first winter in America, the survivors leveled the graves and sowed them with grain in the spring to conceal their losses from the Indians.

Peter Cooper, in 1954, rolled out the first wrought iron beams.

Jurist Gives Georgia Sothorn Right To 'Bumps'

New York Judge Reverses Police Ban On Gorgeous Strip-Teaser

NEW YORK, March 18.—(INS)—Georgia Sothorn, the gal they call the gorgeous strip-teaser extraordinary, had official court sanction to travel her own "bumpy" way of life despite police protests that her gyrations be modified.

Police Commissioner Arthur Wallander had refused to issue Georgia a new permit to entertain in her nightclub spot after officers who witnessed her routine said her "bumps and grinds" were too emphatic.

Reverses Police Ban Judge Morris Eder's decision reversed the police ban which was imposed with a recommendation that if she was to continue her act the "bumps and grinds" routine would have to be reduced by 10 per cent.

Judge Eder, in his finding on behalf of Georgia, said: "Considering that police officers witnessed Miss Sothorn's performance and made no arrest but permitted it to go on, finding no objection to her attire but merely offering a suggestion that her dance be modified . . . I am unable to find that Commissioner Wallander's refusal to issue her a permit can be justified."

Jail Choir Sings Religious Hymns

MOLINA, China.—(INS)—People passing the Talca jail were surprised recently when they heard a chorus of voices within the jail singing religious hymns.

They were so moved by the singing that they joined in themselves.

The 'choir behind the bars' is the work of Rev. Jerome Garvey, a Maryknoll Missioner from San Francisco. Fr. Garvey persuaded the jail's warden to permit his "guests" a half-hour a day to hold a novena to the Blessed Virgin.

At first Fr. Garvey had to coax the prisoners a little to get them to sing. However, his efforts were so successful that in a few days people were crowding around the jail to hear and join in the hymns.

The first synthetic dye of commercial value was produced in 1856.

Edenburg W.S.C.S. To Present Program

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will present a program in the church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Jack Sedgwick.

The program will open with the prelude, "The Palms", played on the piano by Mrs. E. N. Jones. The congregation will join in singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" followed by the scripture reading and prayer. A vocal trio will sing "Were You There?"

"He Died Of A Broken Heart" will be sung by Mrs. Frank Phillips and "Calvary" will be sung by Mrs. Fred Coates. A candle service will take place during which time "The Seven Last Words of the Cross" will be enacted. The narrator is Mrs. J. E. Sedgwick; pianist, C. E. Jones with Fred Coates singing the "Holy City". The program will close with the congregational number "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today" and the benediction by Rev. H. L. Koch.

Nearly $4,000 Paid In Delinquent Tax

Thirty-nine hundred dollars in delinquent city taxes have been paid by taxpayers during January, February, and up to today, according to attaches to the city's legal bureau, where payment is being made. Notices of delinquency are being served daily by plainclothesmen.

Seven hundred dollars was paid in January and $1,700 in February, and so far this month, $1,500 has been paid.

Delinquents have 30 days from the time the notices are delivered in which to pay.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

These days are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, painless under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 64 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Not So Easy To Evade Tax On Cigarettes

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—Pennsylvania importers of "tax-free" cigarettes mailed from other states will be billed by the commonwealth for evaded levies. The State Revenue Department revealed today that over 200 "sly buyers" already have been dunned for the four-cents-a-package tax aggregating approximately $500.

Deputy Secretary W. H. Beachy said their names were obtained from Indiana and New York officials under a reciprocal agreement set up by all of the 37 cigarette taxing states. Firms shipping the tobacco to out-of-state purchasers are required to submit lists of such clients, he added.

The bills mailed to "would be" tax evaders marked the beginning of a tax collecting program that "we're going to enforce very rigidly," Beachy reported.

He warned that an act passed by the General Assembly last year, when the cigarette levy was boosted from two to four cents a pack, made persons possessing a carton or more of untaxed cigarettes subject to maximum $25 fines plus costs of prosecution for each 200 cigarettes in possession.

Prison sentences the equivalent of one day for each unpaid dollar of fines also was provided in the act.

"People who think they are buying cigarettes free of Pennsylvania's tax had better think twice," Beachy said. "They will not only pay the levy of other taxing states, but receive bills for imposts owed for smoking them in Pennsylvania."

Family Trains Year-Old Deer As House Pet

Antics Of 'Skeeter' Proves Entertaining For Chardon, O., Family, Friends

CHARDON, O., March 18.—(INS)—Time was when people sang about pigs going to market, but there's a year-old deer near Chardon that goes to the kitchen or dining room table, daily.

Insofar as a deer can be the property of anyone, this one belongs to 21-year-old Miss Nadaleen Mascarella.

She reared it from a tiny fawn, named it Skeeter, and then had to teach it the manners of living in a home.

But she couldn't teach it alone. She had the help of her brothers and parents. But, without teaching, it does clean up the ash trays. It actually likes cigarette ashes.

The deer was discovered a year ago by Nadaleen's two brothers, Sam and James. They kept it in the house for a time, and then put it in a small pen. But it soon grew large enough to leap the fence, and no pen would hold it.

It immediately began to return to the home, wandering upstairs and down, into the kitchen, parlor and bath. All of which was entertaining to everybody but Mrs. Mascarella, who has a constant dread it some day may decide to vault gracefully through a closed window.

And, somewhat like Mary's little lamb, it follows Nadaleen everywhere—or almost everywhere. It leaves with her when she goes to work each morning, and greets her when she returns.

In between times, when not eating the lettuce off salads on the table, or snatching tid-bits of other sorts, it wanders to the back doors of neighbors' homes, begging.

Skeeter is particularly fond of flowers—much to the disgust of neighbors—and pickles, ice cream, olives and cake, as well as cigarette ashes.

Mrs. Mascarella keeps her begonia plants on a high shelf, while allowing Skeeter to clean the ash trays.

1947 Road Contracts Greatest In Four Year State History

HARRISBURG, March 18.—The value of road and bridge projects placed under contract during 1947 by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways was greater than in the previous four years.

Last year the Department placed projects under contract for a value of $69,208,976, which compares with $67,935,557 for the period of 1943 to 1946 inclusive. It topped by nearly $10,000,000 contract work for the four years of 1931 to 1934.

Contracts of work awarded last year was under the estimated cost of the projects as prepared by the Pennsylvania Department of Engineers.

Last year's contract program was the largest single 12 month period in the Department's history. The war-time year of 1943 only saw $7,069,168 worth of road improvement work executed. In 1935 Department records show only $8,648,167 in contract was undertaken, or almost as low as during the war when highway improvements were restricted by federal regulations.

The average cost per mile of road contracted for last year was $141,274. Despite postwar inflation that figure is not the highest year average per mile. In 1942 the cost was $147,334.

The 1942 average cost is the highest in the Department's history. During 1931 the average dropped to $28,707 but then much of the pavement laid was flexible type. Since then, however, average mileage costs have been gradually going higher. Heavier grading to increase slight distance, multiple lane highways and higher costs for labor and materials are the chief reasons why highway construction shows an upward trend.

Five Turnpike Restaurants Are To Be Enlarged

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—Five of ten restaurants operated on the 160-mile Pennsylvania turnpike are being enlarged to accommodate an anticipated heavy summer tourist trade, it was reported today by Gov. James H. Duff.

Expansion of the eating places, operated by a restaurant chain, is expected to be completed by Memorial Day, Duff said.

"There will be a substantial increase in the size of the stations as well as increased parking facilities," he explained. "The improvement was necessitated by overcrowding due to increased traffic on the turnpike."

Speed Extension Plans
The governor said aerial surveys to determine a route for the projected eastward extension of the high-speed road were expected to be completed by mid-April.

The Turnpike commission has predicted bids for construction could be received in June.

Expansion of the turnpike restaurants was prompted by an investigation of restaurant service after the state had received complaints of inadequate facilities.

American-Welsh To Attend Gymanfa Ganu

It is expected that a group of American-Welsh folks from the city, will attend the Gymanfa Ganu session (Welsh Hymn Singing Assembly), at the Elm Street Welsh Congregational church, Youngstown, on Sunday afternoon, March 21, at 2:30. Prof. T. Herbert Davies of Cleveland, will direct the assembly singing.

At the church at 10 Sunday morning, there will be a Welsh-English service, in the form of anniversary, with Rev. H. M. Williams of Toronto preaching the sermon. He will also preach in the evening, at 7:30. On Wednesday evening, March 24, at 8 P. M., Williams will give a lecture on the subject, "The Great Preachers of Wales."

State Will Inspect Slaughter Houses

HARRISBURG, March 18.—The State Department of Agriculture, in warning slaughterhouse operators to post their 1948 licenses in a conspicuous place on their premises said a check-up will be made on all such places within the next few weeks.

Agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry, division of meat hygiene, have been instructed to see that every abattoir and slaughtering establishment has a new license. Owners not able to produce a 1948 license are subject to prosecution under the meat hygiene act, department officials said.

R.P. Church To Hear Geneva Gospel Team

On Sabbath morning, March 21, at the 11 o'clock worship service of the Reformed Presbyterian church, corner Oak and Pine streets, the Geneva College Gospel team will appear. The group is composed of five members, and will be accompanied by the Geneva quartet.

Dr. E. A. Crooks, the pastor, states, "They will present a program in harmony with the effort being made at the present time, to secure a declaration in the United States Constitution, recognizing God and Jesus Christ as supreme in our national life."

The Gospel team will present this important matter in a convincing and attractive manner.

PAYMENTS TO JOBLESS
HARRISBURG—Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that unemployment compensation benefit payments to jobless Pennsylvania workers during the week ended March 5, 1948, totaled $1,306,652 paid in 78,640 checks.

Holds Police At Bay After Arrow Episode In Chicago

Youth Taken To Juvenile Home Following Shooting Of Half-Brother With Arrow

CHICAGO, March 18.—(INS)—A 16-year-old Chicago boy who shot his half-brother in the chest with a steel-tipped arrow and then held four police squads at bay for an hour, was held in custody at the juvenile home.

The youth, William Thomaszek, was subdued by tear gas fired through a window of his home last night.

His father, Joseph Thomaszek, said he had taken the boy to a physician six months for a nervous condition, but the youth had refused to return for treatment.

Using a bow and arrow, William shot his half-brother, James Gurnees, 22, a postal clerk, as Gurnees opened the front door upon his return from work.

Wound Not Fatal
The 10-inch target arrow was deflected by the breast bone and penetrated only a half-inch. Gurnees felt wounded in the hall as Mrs. Marie Thomaszek, 45, mother of William, and two brothers ran to his aid.

The beserk boy then barricaded himself in the front room by locking the doors and setting a burglar chain on the front entrance. When Police Sgt. Joseph Rudnick unlocked the door with a key, William fired a steel-tipped arrow part way through the door panel.

The boy then shouted threats at police from a window while Sgt. Rudnick pleaded with him to surrender and a crowd of 200 persons gathered around the building.

Pennsylvania Leads In Best Air Markers

Already 532 Air Markers In State, Most Of Which Were Posted By Air Commission

HARRISBURG — Private airplane pilots will find Pennsylvania's airplanes probably the best marked in the entire country when they resume large-scale flying within the next few weeks.

The Keystone State's preeminence in this phase of aeronautics was pointed out today by Secretary of Commerce Oris J. Matthews, who is chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission.

A standard air marker is a sign, usually painted on the roof of a building, with the name of the town in 10-foot letters, which can be read from a height of at least 3,000 feet. An arrow points true north, with the latitude to the left and longitude to the right of the arrow, and an emblem indicating an airport. At the front of the emblem is an arrow pointing to the nearest commercial airport, with the distance in miles.

In Pennsylvania there are now 532 standard air markers, the great majority of which were placed by the Aeronautics Commission. Five markers, destroyed during the last year, are to be replaced this summer. There is a possibility that some additional markers will be placed by the Civil Air Patrol, in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission and local organizations, such as units of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Aeronautics Commission will furnish a manual as a guide in the layout of the design for the placing of new markers on approved sites, and will also furnish the paint required for markers where the Commission considers the marking of the selected sites an additional safety factor.

Dedicate Shrine To Our Lady Of Fatima

HONOLULU.—(INS)—A shrine to the Virgin Mary as Our Lady of Fatima recently was dedicated in Honolulu.

The Most Rev. James J. Sweeney, Roman Catholic bishop of Honolulu, performed the ceremony of dedication before a large gathering on the grounds of the St. Stephens church.

Bishop said that the Virgin Mary, mother of Jesus Christ, appeared to three children at the little town of Fatima, Portugal, in 1917.

World Cure: Prayer and Penance. She urged the world to return to prayer and penance as a cure for its ills.

The children, aged seven to ten years, were grilled by unbelieving officials, but like St. Bernadette of Lourdes, their story was never shaken.

There are many Portuguese Catholics resident in Honolulu. Priests explained that the shrine to the Virgin as Our Lady of Fatima reminds them of Our Lady's "visit" in their former homeland.

Married Veterans Make Good Record In College Classes

WASHINGTON, Pa. March 18.—That marriage and family responsibilities are not a hindrance to good performance in academic work was well demonstrated at Washington and Jefferson College last semester.

When Dean Edward Davidson released the official "Dean's List" of students who made an average of 2.25 in their academic work for the past semester, the names of 23.2% of the married students at W. & J. were on the list.

An average of "three" is perfect. Twenty-nine of the 157 married veterans at the college were on the list, while only 10.8% of the entire student body qualified.

One veteran explained that he is able to spend more time on his home work now that he is married because he spends less time on "extra-curricular activities which have nothing to do with college academic work." Another vet said that he doesn't "run around at night as I did before I was married and my wife sees that I get my work done before other activities are allowed to interfere."

Nine of the veterans who made the "Dean's List" have one child and another has two children.

The first coins produced by the United States mint at Philadelphia were copper coins.

PLAN VETERANS PARADE

Although the Sesqui-Centennial celebration is several months distant, or July 4 week, present plans call for the observance of Veterans day, July 5, when the Vets will parade and hold other events appropriate to the occasion, according to Neshannock post officials.

Claim Equipment Annoys District

Fulton Street Citizens Heard In Equity Suit Against New Castle Duntile Company

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Before Judge John G. Lamoree on Wednesday the equity suit of residents of Fulton street against the New Castle Duntile Company was heard. The residents claim the company's bulldozers of the construction company annoy the district and that the dust raised by the equipment is a nuisance.

The suit is filed by the following Fulton street residents: Frank Gernach, William Kozela, Katherine Hermann, John Christianakis, Frank Davicki, John Skuta, J. DeMarinus and John J. Nycz, against J. Roy Snyder and C. A. Anderson, trading and doing business as the New Castle Duntile Company.

Many witnesses were called. Their testimony was similar. Most of it was to the effect that prior to the spring of 1947 the Fulton street district was quiet and reasonably clean. In the spring of 1947 the New Castle Duntile Company started operations at the foot of Fulton street and that these operations created noise and dust. It was testified that trucks continually drove in the area making noise, permeating the air with gasoline and oil odors. They further testified that the rumbling of the trucks and bulldozers shook the houses, weakened walls, and did damage. The dust they said infiltrated into the houses and in summer it was impossible to keep windows or doors open.

One of the elements of the defendant company's defense is that the area was an industrial district long before houses were erected there. Judge Lamoree will hand down a decision later.

(BULLETIN)

BERLIN, March 18. — (INS) — Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, U. S. military prosecutor at Nuernberg, parachuted out of a damaged C-47 transport plane over the heart of Berlin with his wife and a number of other persons today.

Latest reports said that Mrs. Taylor and an army sergeant were injured in the jump while two others of those aboard were detained by the Soviets when they landed in the Russian zone near the Brandenburg gate.

Reuters reported that Gen. Taylor himself was taken to a hospital. The exact number of those who jumped was not determined immediately. Reports varied at 7, 8 and 10.

Jumps Ordered

The dramatic jumps occurred when the C-47 lost an engine soon after taking off from Tempelhof Air Field for Nuernberg.

The pilot and co-pilot stayed with the plane, landing it safely despite the mishap.

Gen. Taylor's wife was reported to have been one of the passengers bailing out. She was reported to have suffered a broken leg in coming down on a house top in the Soviet sector and was taken to a hospital.

A sergeant who was aboard the plane also was hospitalized by the Russians.

Two others landed in the Soviet sector near the Brandenburg gate on Berlin's famed Unter Den Linden and were detained by the Soviets.

Raw Materials Shortage Cause Low Steel Output

COATESVILLE, Pa., Mar. 18.—(INS)—William E. Mullenstein, manager of field sales of Lukens Steel Company, declared three to five million additional tons of steel might have been produced in 1947 if raw materials were available in quantity.

Addressing members of the economics discussion group recently, Mullenstein said:

"Steel has been in undersupply over the last two years, but there appears to be little logic in building vast additional steelmaking facilities until problems of raw material supply can be solved in a satisfactory manner."

The steel industry has done a relatively good job in the fight against inflation, Mullenstein said. One of the prime reasons, he added, has been the almost full utilization of productive capacity.

The increase of steel, in the last eight years was about 49 per cent. Mullenstein said, while the average price of non-ferrous metals has been increased nearly 92 per cent.

The steel industry is taking major steps to expand its facilities in the next two years which are designed to give it a capacity of 96,500,000 tons a year—the largest in the nation's history.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. RELIEF FIGURE DROPS

HARRISBURG—In the week ending February 28, Pennsylvania's general assistance rolls decreased for the first time since late November. The net decrease, which amounted to 10 cases, was the result of dropping 645 cases from the rolls while opening 635 cases in the same period.

'White House' In Philadelphia May Be Future Shrine

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—(INS)—George Washington's Philadelphia "White House" may be turned over to the government soon as a national shrine.

Marriott C. Morris, nationally known for his interest in boys' organization, died March 2, and stated in his will that the home be given to the United States as a lasting memorial. The also stated that if death should occur within 30 days the historic dwelling was to go to his son, Elliston P. Morris. Because his father died three days after making the will, it is up to the son to do as he wishes.

It is believed that Elliston will carry out the original intention of his father.

The home, used by Washington during the yellow fever plague, was also headquarters of British Commander Sir William Howe during the battle of Germantown. Built in 1772, the structure is in a perfect state of preservation and is one of the finest examples of colonial architecture remaining. It is valued today at $41,300.

State Plans School For Game Wardens

Thirty Students From Pennsylvania Will Begin Studies Under G.I. Bill Of Rights

HARRISBURG—Ross L. Leffler, president of the Game Commission, has announced enrollment of another class of student officers in the Training School for field personnel on June 1, 1948. The school is an approved institution under the GI Bill of Rights and Leffler said Veterans applying for enrollment will be given exceptions in the maximum age requirements and examination credits.

The school will be conducted for one year beginning June 1, 1948; the class will comprise 30 students selected on a statewide basis; the candidates must be between 23 and 35 years of age; the minimum height requirement is 5'8"; and the weight limit will be between 140 and 200 pounds, with an extra 10 pounds allowance for men over 6' tall. Candidates must favorably pass the prescribed mental and physical examinations.

Examinations will be conducted in Harrisburg early in May, the exact time and place to be announced later, President Leffler said. Only bona fide residents of the Commonwealth for three or more years are eligible for the examination.

WASHINGTON—Since the U. S. bureau of reclamation was established in 1902 it has constructed more than 100 dams.

59 LICENSES REVOKED

Thieves Get $1,800 In Robbery Here

Store Proprietor Tells Police
Money He Had Secreted,
Was Stolen

Eighteen hundred dollars in denominations of $100, and $50 bills, was stolen some time yesterday from a cupboard of the Penn Cigar and Candy store, North Mercer street, according to a report made by Frank Mantinos, proprietor, to police headquarters. Detectives are investigating the robbery.

He had accumulated the money over a period of several years to bring two nephews from Greece to this city.

The necessary papers for their entry into this country had been prepared, and yesterday morning he placed the money in a cupboard. When he went to get the money at 10:40 p. m., closing time, Wednesday, he discovered the money had been stolen.

He reported the theft to headquarters and Policemen Tewell and Russo made a preliminary investigation, following which the case was turned over to the detective bureau.

Health Talks

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS
Hospitals and health seem to go along with civilization. Primitive or savage people do not have many hospitals nor very good health.

As civilization improves, people gradually learn how to care for their sick. They provide places where treatment is given.

Usually the first hospitals are for physical or body diseases. Then later hospitals for diseases of the mind are established.

In America we have a pretty good supply of general hospitals. We do not have so many mental hospitals.

As our civilization improves we will probably have more hospitals of both kinds.

We will learn more about the prevention of disease, then we will not need so many hospitals.

The name "Nebraska" for that state was suggested by Fremont in 1843. It was derived from the Ojibwa Indian name for the Platte river — "Ne-brath-ka," meaning Shallow Water.

Film and radio star Dinah Shore is a Tennessee lass, born in Winchester, near Nashville. She began her professional career in a local night club when she was only 14 years old. The mention of Adolphe Menjou's name conjures up the ultra-

IN THE OPEN

The redwinged blackbirds either failed to hear the soothsayer warning Caesar of the day of March, or they chose to pay no attention to this prophet of doom. One day before the fateful day they pulled up into the big sycamores across the valley, fresh from the rice fields and marshes of the southland. They brought along their own band to signal their arrival and for an hour or more the welkin rang "with social cheer and jubilee."

This advance guard was made up entirely of male birds each wearing his new coal-black uniform with scarlet shoulder epaulettes. The countryman hears these redwing "jam sessions" in the treetops and knows that another planting time is close at hand. I propped a chair against the sun-warmed south foundation wall and enjoyed the ready concert. Suddenly, as with one accord, the whole entourage took off across the hills to carry their gladsome message to some other expectant valley.

Bluebirds Move In
During the bright noon hour a day or two before the red-wings arrived, a pair of blue birds moved in on us with a proprietary air we hope will be permanent. I heard the unmistakable alto warbling of the soft-spoken blue-coat and we first spied him in the pear tree. Then he flew to the honey-suckle pole in the side yard and serenaded his mate, who appeared to be inspecting the premises with an eye to possible building sites.

Two Summers ago we were honored by a nesting pair of these beautiful neighbors, who raised two broods in a bird box on the side of the garage. Last year they failed to settle down and I have been blaming the pesky starlings and the bullying English sparrows for their seeking out more respectable surroundings. This year we'll try a new box in the fence row, and will post watch against all interlopers.

Made Tentative Foray
The weekend came up with a raw March afternoon that carried a penetrating chill in the teeth of a gusty breeze which grounded all activity in the thickets. I made one tentative foray but gave up the day as unprofitable for hiking purposes, although I did note a sizable raft of ducks riding the choppy water on one of the larger reservoirs.

The next day was milder, and the forenoon arrival of the redwings motivated one last trip afield to hobnob with the faithful wildlings who have greeted me cheerfully along the wintry waysides. I parked the car on the cinder road and entered a path which threads the wooded hillside hard by the wide valley stream.

Apparently the word was out that old Neb-nose would be along that way. I had hardly moved out of sight of the car when I came across the whole Winter entourage, plus one big brown bird which may have been a fox sparrow, but which I could not identify with certainty.

Song sparrows were chanting by the creekside, and the usual gang of chickadees and tufted titmice moved through the undergrowth. Juncos and tree sparrows were ground-feeding, and flew out ahead as I advanced. A flight of goldfinches passed overhead. A tiny brown creeper worked his "best" on a huge water elm visibly annoyed by a pair of downy woodpeckers who insisted on patrolling the same territory.

Watches Crow In Timber
Further on I came across a pair of the larger hairy woodpeckers, and watched a crow moving stealthily through the timber, although it is a little too early for this sable fellow to be actually house-building. Only the nuthatches and the kinglets were missing from this last roundup of the commoner Winter birds of this area. From now on they will be engulfed by the rising tide of feathered migrants. In another week or so they will move into the background, until the chill blasts of another October send the Summer boarders fleeing southward.

A honeybee droned through the thickets, hob-nobbed with the chickadees. She whined in a high pitched complaint, as though traveling on high octane fuel. Probably for easy starting on the chill March mornings. A lone water strider skated about over an ice-rimmed pool, and skidded clear out on the ice as I stopped by. These insects spend the Winter clustered under the banks by the streamside.

The red-wings paid no heed as the soothsayer warned of the day of March. But the icy agents of the frost king may well beware the tides of March—those Spring tides which are now flowing in the sugar camps, and in the swelling buds, and in the pulsing throats of every little songster of the fence rows.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Parable of the sower.

"Ye rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it."—Luke 11:28.

(By NEWMAN CAMPBELL)
The International Lesson on the above topic for March 21 is Mark 4:26-29; Luke 4:16-22a; 17:20, 21; Romans 14:17.)

In Jesus' time, as until recently in our own, the Jews had no country of their own. They had returned to their homeland from exile, it is true, but they were ruled by Roman emperors, their dominion having been established by Pompey the Great in 63 B. C.

The country was divided, part under the sons of Herod the Great, Philip and Antipas, both regions being ruled as tetrarchies—under minor governors. Judea, Samaria and the land south of Judea were more directly under the Roman procurator, Pontius Pilate.

The Jews were looking for a Messiah, one who would lead them to victory over their enemies and re-establish the kingdom. This was their great hope in the time of Jesus. Now, it seems that their dream may be realized. In the struggle now going on they hope to gain a land of their own, there to live as an independent, sovereign nation.

Our lesson deals not with this earthly country for which the people of Palestine so longed, but for the kingdom of God, which was Jesus' message to His people. To illustrate what He meant by the kingdom of God, Jesus told the following parable while preaching by the Sea of Galilee: The kingdom of God is as if a man should cast seed into the ground, and should sleep night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up without his paying much attention to it. Growing in the earth, first the blade would come up, then the ear, and finally the "full corn in the ear." Then the man would reap because the harvest was come. So in men's hearts, first the message is sown by the teacher; where it grows without his knowledge, until it attains full growth, and the man realizes that he has the kingdom of God within him.

Some time before this Jesus had made a visit to His native town, Nazareth. As He always did, Jesus went on the Sabbath into the synagogue, and stood up to read. The synagogues which had been set up since the Jews returned from exile in Babylon were rooms one end of which faced toward Jerusalem. The men sat on one side and the veiled women on the other.

The Ark, of painted wood, generally covered with a curtain, and containing the Pentateuch and scrolls of the prophets, was the most sacred object. On one side was the bema or pulpit for the reader and preacher, and there were chief seats for the synagogue's ruler and the elders. It was customary to read the scriptures standing. After someone had read the first lesson, which was from the Pentateuch, the clerk would hand the roll of parchment containing the book of the prophets which was the second lesson, to someone, and in this case he gave it to Jesus. We do not know whether what Jesus read was the lesson for the day or whether He chose it especially. What Christ read to these people who had known Him from childhood, was:

"The spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Jesus then closed the book, handed it back to the clerk, and sat down and began to talk. The eyes of all in the synagogue were upon Him, and all marvelled at the gracious words that came from His lips. "Is not this Joseph's son?" they asked one another.

What did Jesus believe was the kingdom of God? When asked by the Pharisees when it would come, He answered, "The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo, there for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

Into our hearts it comes, into all men's hearts, before the kingdom is established. When men cease being cruel, selfish, grasping; when they do unto others as they would be done by, then shall the kingdom come. It is not an earthly thing, for, as Paul wrote to the Romans: "For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 18.—(INS)—Barbara Stanwyck currently is engaged in the longest-winded telephone conversation in history. The gal has been on the phone for a week. And she won't be through bawling the breeze for another six days.

Miss Stanwyck, normally a very quiet female, is screaming herself silly—and that's a hoarse on her. Portraying the neurotic invalid wife of Burt Lancaster in Paramount's "Sorry, Wrong Number," she has been giving a marathon exhibition of sustained hysterics.

Real Suspense Epic
The king-size scene, running a full four minutes, is the dramatic high spot of the suspense epic. Both the actress and Director Anatole Litvak want it to be perfect. If practice makes perfect then the scene will be that; it's been shot more times than a shooting gallery duck.

Miss Stanwyck, wearing a pink lace-trimmed nightgown, is staging an emotional outburst on the telephone. She keeps pouring a Niagara of frenzied words into the mouthpiece each day until she literally runs out of gas.

When the 4 o'clock whistle tooted today, Litvak thanked his star for her admirable acting and told her she could get off to bed.

Arm Paralyzed
"I can't," replied Miss Stanwyck. "I'm exhausted. Besides, my arm is paralyzed from holding the phone."

It was a full five minutes before she crawled from the bed and went wearily to her dressing room. The telephone in a booth near the sound stage door rang. An electrician answered it. He popped his head out and yelled: "Hey, Miss Stanwyck. You're wanted on the phone!"

Gomez Wasting Away
Thomas Gomez, who weighed 238 pounds when he started work on "Key Largo" five weeks ago, has wasted away to a mere 242 pounds.

He explained: "It wasn't diet. It was simply sweating it out with all this competition."

Referring to such fellow scene-stealers as Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Lionel Barrymore and Dan Seymour in the Warner flicker.

Puppy Not Hungry
Director Frank Borzage was trying to persuade a three-week-old puppy to lick Dane Clark's chin in an important scene for "Moonrise."

The pup wasn't interested. A Republic make-up man suggested rubbing raw hamburger on Dane's face.

The actor retorted: "Not on your life! If the dog isn't satisfied with the ham that's already there, he'll have to do it the hard way."

PAYMENTS TO VETERANS
HARRISBURG — Ramsey B. Black, state treasurer, announced that payments to returned Pennsylvania veterans under the service men's readjustment act during the week ended March 5, 1948, totaled $1,256,324 paid in 62,007 checks.

Recipe For Happy And Successful Teachers

By MALVINA LINDSAY

This article outlines some of the things you can do to help your teachers. Without good teaching, there is no such thing as a good school.

That paragon of a teacher — one who is professionally qualified, mentally dynamic, personally adjusted to life, understanding of youth, enthusiastic about teaching — hovers in the background of every discussion of not only the school problem, but of the nation's future and democracy's survival. How are such persons to be enticed into the empty and overcrowded schools of our country?

Better pay, of course, is the first answer. Repeatedly in the recent hearings of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Subcommittee on the several bills for federal aid to education, the need of earmarking federal funds for teachers salaries has been stressed. But more than that is needed. The 90 national organizations represented at the recent Citizens' Conference, called by the National Education Association, are now trying to interest communities not only in making teaching attractive to promising young people.

Some Suggestions

Out of all the recent testimony and discussion on this subject, the following community measures suggest themselves:

Take the long suffered stigma of "old maid's calling" from teaching by abolishing all barriers against married teachers, thus enabling more young women to enter teaching as a permanent career rather than a stopgap to marriage. Let communities encourage young women teachers to a social life that brings marriage opportunities. Make school boards more live and progressive. Put on them men and women who are younger, at least mentally, than the solid citizen, Mrs. Grundy type that has so long prevailed. Make them more democratic by including wide-awake citizens who do not necessarily own banks, stores or college degrees.

Make school buildings — where teachers and pupils spend most of their time during the daytime hours — more attractive and cheerful. Provide better equipment, more comforts. Above all do something about the dismal of one room country schoolhouses that dot the American landscape as bleak symbols of human loneliness.

Speed the electrification of rural areas, also the spread of inside plumbing, since lack of these is causing young people to desert for the city these areas that are now calling so desperately for young teachers to come to them. Take stock to see if small town or neighborhood clannishness is making teachers feel like outsiders. Welcome new teachers, honor familiar ones with some of the teas, luncheons, receptions, parties accorded prominent citizens or bridge club members. Respect teachers leisure and guarantee them freedom from heavy loads of outside activity.

Help them in attaining comfortable, attractive home surroundings. Try to understand that young teachers accustomed to the free social life of college find it difficult to conform to the stricter codes of ethics in many communities. Help them to find social compensations for the livelier fun they may have to undergo.

Encourage men to go in — and stay in — the profession that is 80 per cent feminine as many school children who lost fathers in the war will be needing men teachers' direction and influence.

Discourage young women who hate teaching or are bored with it from remaining in it as they will communicate their frustration and unhappiness to their pupils. Induce schools of education to weed out students temperamentally unfit for teachers. Promote scholarships for capable young people who are interested in teaching. Insist upon hiring and paying adequately, teachers who are emotionally mature, since the main hope of an eventually national peaceful world is the development of human beings mentally and emotionally able to bring it about. — Used by Special Permission of The Washington Post.

New Policy In Far East Seen

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 18.—High American officials in Tokyo today hailed President Truman's message as the first step in rebuilding United States military strength to permit a stronger foreign policy in both Europe and Asia.

One authority told International News Service:

"It was a strong speech, and naturally any added military strength would be reflected in a stronger policy in the Far East. Unless we have military strength backing us up we cannot follow a strong foreign policy."

Americans felt that the President's speech, although it did not mention Asia, made it "quite plain the United States does not favor the growth of communism in Japan any more than in Europe."

U. S. expenditure for building residence varied from a high of

Winners In Sesqui Letterhead Designing Contest

First, second and third place winners in the Sesqui-Centennial "letterhead designing contest" are the three drawings shown above. Harold Lose, a student at Senior High school, took first place with the top drawing. Lower left, by Leroy Juliano, was second, and the lower right, drawing by Don Morgan, was third place. Harold Lose's sketch will be used as a letterhead on all official mail in connection with the coming Sesqui-Centennial.

Collecting Canned Goods And Soap To Aid Poland's Needy

A campaign for the collection of canned goods and soap has been in progress at the Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church for the past two weeks, which will be sent to the needy people of Poland.

Fr. E. C. Kuzminski, pastor of the church, is in charge of the campaign, and the results to date are very gratifying. Over 200 cans and over 100 cakes of soap have been collected.

The campaign will last until the week after Easter, after which the food and soap will be shipped to Scranton, from where it will be sent to Poland. All members of the Holy Trinity congregation are requested to contribute their donations of canned goods and soap.

SHARON, Pa., March 18.—(INS)—Three Mercer county communities have voted to go on daylight saving time this summer.

Sharon and Grove City will move their clocks ahead one hour on April 25. Sharpville is the third town that will be on daylight time.

SOIL TILTH DEPENDS ON GOOD MANAGEMENT

Tilth, a physical characteristic of soils essential for satisfactory cultivation and crop production, can be improved through good soil management.

High-quality organic matter, when mixed with the soil, generally insures good tilth. The best organic materials for this purpose are those produced from legumes. Other sources are fine-rooted and fine-stemmed grasses, green manure crops, and barnyard manure.

Tilth is one of those soil characteristics which can be changed rather quickly. Good tilth can be quickly and easily changed to poor tilth and, generally speaking, a condition of poor tilth can be gradually changed to a condition of better and better tilth from year to year.

In order to retain good tilth soils should not be cultivated when they are too wet, and livestock should be kept out of pastures when the soil is muddy.

Good soil management is the key to good soil tilth. If fertile soils are cultivated and pastured only when moisture conditions are right, and if they are supplied with liberal amounts of high-quality organic matter they are almost sure to have good tilth.

Soils in good tilth absorb water rapidly during rains, and water and air move freely through them. Good conditions are provided for the germination of seeds, the growth of plant roots, and the growth of helpful bacteria.

MANY LOW PRODUCERS IN D.H.I.A. ARE SOLD

More cows left dairy herds because of low production than for any other reason according to the summarization of 1947 Dairy Herd Improvement Association records by extension dairy specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

That dairymen are using their records to cull out low producers is shown by the fact that 29.8 per cent of the cows that were sold went out of the herds because of low production. The next leading cause for selling cows was dairy purposes, accounting for 25.2 per cent of all cows sold during 1947 from D.H.I.A. herds.

Other reasons for selling cows were as follows: sterility, 12.6 per cent; udder trouble, 9.4 per cent; Bang's disease, 6.6 per cent; other reasons, 6.3 per cent; died 5.2 per cent; old age, 2.6 per cent; accident, 1.9 per cent; tuberculosis, .4 per cent.

These cows represent a total of 14,565 cows culled from herds which had a total of 77,607 cows on test. At this rate of turnover, the average herd would be replaced completely in 5 years. The average turnover minus cows sold for dairy purposes is 6.8 years. This 6.8 years represents the average producing life of our dairy cows in Dairy Herd Improvement Associations.

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM FOR FIRE PROTECTION

With a farm fire loss of $100,000,000 in 1947 in the United States and some of it in Lawrence County, fire prevention and protection practices deserve to be employed vigorously on all farms during 1948.

As a guide to better farm fire prevention and protection, the following safety program is suggested:

1. Keep your farm clean. Good housekeeping in and around all buildings will automatically get rid of fire hazards.
2. Make regular checks on all electrical equipment and circuits. Worn and overloaded electrical wiring should be replaced and enlarged.
3. Keep all heating units in good condition. Make sure chimneys and flues are free of cracks.
4. Cure hay, grain, and stored manure properly. Stored hay should be inspected regularly for odors, vapor, gas and heat—all warning signals.
5. Make sure there is equipment on farms with which to combat fires. Buckets of water and fire extinguishers should be in every home and outbuilding. Make sure they are inspected regularly and that every member of the family knows how to use them. The orchard spray gun is a most modern piece of fire-fighting equipment.

Fires are preventable, and as for fire protection let us not have too little too late in 1948. Let us all get busy and make Lawrence County farms the safest place to live.

Years ago when rice was sold in bulk, washing before cooking was necessary to be sure the rice was clean, but recent research has outdated this practice.

Report 300,000 Men Needed For Military Quotas

By GEORGE MOISE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 18. —
Military officials estimated today that America's armed services can be brought up to full authorized strength by drafting approximately 300,000 men.
Following President Truman's request for a temporary draft, the Office of Defense also figured that there are three million men between the ages of 18 and 25 who would be available for selective service.
The army is most desperately in need of the draftees asked by President Truman. With a current authorized strength of 669,000 officers and men, it has 550,000. Officials says manpower shortage has affected efficiency of U. S. forces in occupation areas, and overseas commanders are not getting the number of men they are asking.

This is particularly true in Korea.
The navy has an average strength for the fiscal year 1948 of 437,000, which is up to budgetary limitations but well under authorized strength of 552,000. Actually, however, the navy today has only about 394,000 officers and men on active duty.
The air force also is up to its budgetary limitation with 359,000, but authorized personnel is 401-000.
Thus a draft of 276,000 men would bring the armed forces up to strength, using the navy's average figure as a base. If the current navy figure issued, the need is for 319,000.

ard the Lionhearted, king of England, never set foot on English

TWO SMALL FIRES
Firemen were called out twice late Wednesday for small fires.
At 8:15, gasoline leaking from a gas line tank of an auto at the home of Robert Slack, of 304 Cascade street, which was being cleaned, ignited from a broken electric light bulb, causing damage estimated at around $15, by Fire Chief James E. Thomas.
At 3:10 p. m. Fourth ward firemen were called to Cascade street to extinguish a grass fire.
Drive slow—children move fast.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

Township volunteer firemen will meet Friday evening in the home of Mrs. John Bockius, East New

co-hostess.
This is a change in meeting

They May End "Phutility Of Phillies"

POSEDEL... he won 19 games.

BLATNIK... his bat is potent.

LA POINTE... infield insurance.

KOECHER... hot pitching prospect.

Those "phightin'" Phillies aim to climb in the National League race this season and much of the hopes rest on the abilities of these youngsters.

Lou Posedel and Dick Koecher, both up from Utica, won 17 and 15 respectively as moundsmen in 1947. Ralph LaPointe played 56 games with the club at the end of the '47 campaign and is a valuable infield replacement. Johnny Blatnik, prize rookie up from Wilkes-Barre, socked the apple at a .334 clip and wields a potent bat. He is an outfielder.

American Legion Wins Second Half Honors In C&I

Eroe, Cavelli Lead Way As Shenango Pottery Is Humbled, 54 To 30

Winning almost as they pleased the American Legion five copped second half honors in the C&I Industrial League last night at the "V" floor, blasting the Shenango Pottery (first half champs), 54-30.

Eroe and Cavelli each hit for 14 points to pace the winners. Korab supplied 11 of the Pottery points.

In Church League action the First U.P. walked away from St. George, 38-18 and in another C-I tilt, the Bronze Local 69 quint bested the United, 33-20.

Tonight at 7:15 the Legion meets United. Epworth plays the First U.P. in the second offering (this game to decide who will battle Wampum for the second half crown), and at 9:15 the Universal tangle with the Calabra Club.

Briefs From Major Camps

(By International News Service)

Howie Pollet, slim St. Louis Cardinal left-hander, was still very much a question mark in Redbird camp today. Plans today following a three-inning clubbing from the Detroit Tigers. The Cards lost 6 to 2.

The southpaw, operated on for bone chips removal during the winter following a poor 1947 season, was shelled for four runs and eight hits. That is very much unlike the Pollet who sparked St. Louis to the 1946 flag with 21 wins.

Eddie Dyer, Card manager, may have reason to renege on his prediction that St. Louis will win the 1948 pennant "because Pollet is back in shape."

Another pennant contender, this time the world champion New York Yankees, edged the Cincinnati Reds 8 to 7 on Johnny Lindell's ninth-inning single, his third hit of the game.

Frank Shea, Yankee rookie sensation last year, pitched the first three innings and didn't give up a hit or a run.

Senators Win

The Washington Senators continued American League dominance over National League opposition by licking the Philadelphia Phillies 11 to 7. Gil Coan, rookie Senator outfielder featured a seven-run Washington second-inning with a four-run homer.

Al Gerhauser, St. Louis Brown lefty obtained from the Montreal Royals in the winter draft, became the first major league hurler to go the distance by pitching a three-hit, 13 to 1 victory against the Chicago White Sox.

The Brownie "junior varsity" took a 7 to 5 trimming from the Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast League, California rains forcing the game to be postponed.

The champion Brooklyn Dodgers remained undefeated in their games with their farm team, the Montreal Royals. The Brooks walloped the Royals 14 to 0 behind the three-hit pitching of lefties Joe Hatten and Preacher Roe.

Elliott Bowlers Resting In First

By defeating the Laris Motors at the Ambridge alleys Tuesday evening, the Elliott Steelers of the women's tri-county duckpin league, moved into first place in the second half.

In the second game of the match the Elliott girls had an 845 total, the highest this year. Jane Agnew had a high three-game total of 483 pins.

Friday night Beaver Falls will oppose the Elliotts at the Castle alleys.

Sportsmen To Meet Friday

Sportsman's Council of Lawrence county will meet at eight o'clock, Friday night, at the Ellwood City and Wampum Rod and Gun club along the Wampum-Ellwood City road. Resolutions to the benefit of the council will receive action. All officers and representatives of affiliated clubs are expected to attend. Luncheon will be served.

St. Louis Captures NIT Honors

Billikens Trip N. Y. U., 65 To 52

"Easy Ed" McCauley Puts On Dazzling Show; Wins Top Player Award

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, March 18.—Basketball addicts today as still another tournament, the 10th annual NCAA classic, trooped into Madison Square Garden.

But even as four top-flight eastern regional representatives take the court, the fans still will be buzzing about the superlative performance of "Easy Ed" McCauley, the St. Louis Billikens' all-American center.

MacAuley led St. Louis to the 11th national invitation championship last night, an impressive 65-52 triumph over out-manned New York University.

The big boy was terrific. He was unanimously voted the tourney's most valuable player award, a singular tribute to his all-around excellence. "Easy Ed" was the main cog in the well-paced attack of the sharp-shooting Billikens.

He fought off heavier Adolph Schayes for rebounds, he passed off to driving teammates, and when the attack sputtered he moved his 6' 8" frame in fakes that culminated in spectacular hook shots.

Hits For 34 Points

Big "Mac" hit for 24 points to romp off with high-game honors. The game figured to hinge on the Schayes-McAuley duel. Schayes could not stop MacAuley and the Billikens, after a sluggish start, racked up a 25-18 halftime lead. They were never threatened thereafter.

In the meaningless battle for third place, western Kentucky fought off DePaul 61-59 in a thrilling overtime battle.

The NCAA tourney—eastern division—offers two of the slickest quintets in the nation. Kentucky and Holy Cross. Both will be favored. The Wildcats are 10-point choices over Columbia. Ivy league champion, and the Crusaders are three-point favorites over Michigan, Big Nine titlist.

Big Favorites

The Wildcats, perennial tourney favorites, are solidly backed to take the crown away from defending Holy Cross. Adolph Rupp's Wildcats expect to have little trouble from Columbia, whose 21-1 record is deceiving inasmuch as the Lions squared off against few top-notch outfits.

Holy Cross, winners of its last 18 games (it lost three of 26 games) may have trouble taking the rugged Wolverines into camp. Bill Roberts, Michigan's 6' 7" center, will have a three-inch reach over All-American nominee George Kefauver.

The finals of the NCAA eastern regionals are scheduled for the garden on Saturday, March 20.

Biddle Leaves For Miami Bout

Drops 10-Round Decision To Bulldog Dutherford In Return Battle

Jack Biddle, local middleweight lost a 10-round decision to Bulldog Dutherford of West Virginia, at Roanoke, Monday night, and departed last night for Miami, Fla., where Friday night he boxes Oswald O'Sylvia, South American middleweight champion in a 10-round bout. Oswald recently went 10 losing rounds with Steve Beloit, one of the hottest middleweights now in action.

Biddle has also been offered a fight with LaVerne Roach of Texas, in late April.

After his fight Friday night, Biddle will return here to continue training for his April 14 bout with Russell Baxter in The Arena.

OOSTERBAAN MICHIGAN COACH

TALKING over University of Michigan's football prospects for 1948 are Capt. Dominic Tomasi (left) and Head Coach Benny Oosterbaan. Oosterbaan was appointed coach by Fritz Crisler, when Crisler, in a surprise move, announced his resignation as head coach but said he would retain his posts as athletic director and head of the physical education department of the university.

Unprecedented Action Suspends Bowler Bomar

DETROIT, March 18.—(INS)—In an action unprecedented in its 16-year history, the Bowling Proprietor's Association of America today suspended Buddy Bomar, former national match game champion, from all sponsored activities for a six-month period.

The association also fined the 1947 "bowler of the year" $500 for alleged contractual violations in a recently-scheduled match between the E and B team of Detroit and Kathryn's of Chicago for the world's five-man title.

A three-man BPAA committee, serving as a trial jury for the occasion, ruled the championship still belonged to the Chicagoans "until they are beaten."

The action this morning wound up an eight-hour session which left the outcome of the match as it is.

except that Bomar, who won $17,000 as captain of Kathryn's last year, will be barred from competing in the first two blocks of the Chicago end of the match.

While the bulk of the association's ruling was directed at Bomar, E and B drew a sharp reprimand and a penalty in the form of an edict calling for completion of the match.

The action against E and B followed a controversy which resulted in the second half of the championship Saturday. The Detroit team called off the last half of the match, charging that Bomar used a rotary brush on the bowling alley's in violation of the conditions under which the match was to be rolled.

E and B had rolled to a 592 pin lead in the first half of the match.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

MOST people regard the life of a touring pro golfer one of ease and luxury, with little work or worry attached. That is true, doubtless, with some of the standout players. Assuredly, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Jim Demarest and Bobby Locke made considerable money at it. They have money in the bank, and can afford many luxuries. But still they have to work at the game. But the money doesn't come easy when one has to play day in and day out, battle the sun and winds, and often times the rains and the frigidty. Speaking of the situation, Cary Middlecoff, who shares the International four-ball championship, says it definitely isn't easy, isn't luxurious and isn't anything much but hard and plenty of work. He reports that during a hard tournament one can't sleep too well because of the tremendous nervous and physical strain. And you have to find time for practice between or during tournaments. Byron Nelson quit because of the nervous strain and Sam Snead says he will play less in the future. Bobby Jones, an amateur with no monetary gains to make, retired after he won the Grand Slam in 1930, and at the peak of his career, because of the strain. Jones used to find himself unable to eat, unable to retain what he did eat, between rounds of a particularly hard tourney.

President Herman Steinbrink of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, reports several hundred sportsmen attended the social time in the Ecclesian club, Tuesday night. John S. Riley company displayed four reels of fish pictures. Steinbrink also reported that 25 cocks and 100 hen pheasants were stocked in different sections of Lawrence County. The birds arrived at 2 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, and stocking was under way at 4 o'clock.

Johnny Izzo, Seventh ward middleweight, who trained at Kane, boxes Johnny O'Rourke of Pittsburgh, tonight, at Pittsburgh's Aragon gardens. Marcel Cerdan, the Frenchman, who stopped Laverne Roche, the young ex-marine, isn't a spring chicken. Like Gus Lesnevich, the light-heavyweight champion, he's aged, being 32, while Gus is 33. Cerdan has been boxing 13 years. With Ray Robinson clamoring for a shot at Cerdan and Steve Beloitse, Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale in action, things look prosperous for the toponotch middleweights.

Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C., today stated Jack Biddle would meet Russell Baxter in an eight round return fight, April 14. Johnny Izzo has been mated with Sonny Marsh of Niles, who is now managed by Jimmie Dunn, and Lionel LaGrew, also a Dunn-piloted fighter, will box Bobby Mason of Youngstown.

Good Weather Will Help Rush Work At P. J. Flaherty Field

With any kind of break in the weather, the many improvements at P. J. Flaherty Field can be rushed along. The time is drawing near for the New Castle team of the Mid-Atlantic league to start spring training—just about three weeks away.

Business Manager George Smith will be in New Castle the second week in April for the tryout period, following which the players under contract will start working out.

Providing there is not too much rain, the field will be in tiptop shape for the invasion of the ball players.

Work is progressing on the installation of the box seats, the new bleacher seats, team-dugouts and a new press box.

VILLANOVA OPENS DRILLS

VILLANOVA, Pa., March 18.—(INS)—Twenty lettermen reported for work as Villanova College opened spring football practice in preparation for a tough 1948 schedule.

Among those who turned out was Neil O'Boyle, a quarterback aspirant who starred at a Scranton High school. Head Coach Jordan Olivari said O'Boyle looks like a comer.

Illinois Body To Probe Boxing

Suspension Period Suggested By Commission Overridden By Attorney General

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Illinois Athletic commission, whose bark is worse than its bite, which is practically non-existent, will meet today to discuss a shutdown which is neither shut nor down. Specifically, the higher-ups on the commission are going to review the current boxing situation in Illinois. This was to be done, as suggested by Governor Green, during a 13-day period of no-boxing-in-Illinois, but late yesterday Attorney General George F. Barrett informed the commission it has no legal power to enact such a moratorium.

Thus the commission, which Tuesday stated "boxing will be suspended," yesterday stated "boxing will not be suspended." There is a slight difference in the meanings of these two statements which is readily apparent to the naked eye.

In advising the commission of its powers, Attorney General Barrett said:

"The statute legalizing boxing in Illinois was validly enacted by the legislature of this state and remains in full force and effect until amended or repealed by the legislature."

"There is ample power within the law to accomplish reforms which are obviously necessary in connection with boxing."

That last is not necessarily a nasty crack. It is just that almost everybody has been vilifying the fight game since Sam Baroudi died February 21 six hours after being knocked out by Ezzard Charles in the Chicago stadium ring.

Clyde B. Smith, 42, has been named head football coach at Indiana University, succeeding "Bo" McMillin. Smith, who served as line coach under "Bo" from 1934 through 1937, has had a successful tenure of service at LaCrosse, Wis. State Teachers college where his pre-war teams won three straight championships, and his 1940 eleven, unbeaten and scored on only once, was considered the finest college defensive unit in the land.

Smith, pleasantly surprised when notified of the offer to coach in the Big Nine, will greet the Hoosier gridders April 1, when spring training begins.

Urge Sportsmen To Again Halt Losses By Fire

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—Secretary of Forests and Waters Milo F. Draemel today called on Pennsylvania sportsmen's organization to exercise the same care this year which resulted in the lowest number of forest fires on record in the state during 1947. Draemel emphasized that "fire has done more to bring about losses in game... than any other single thing."

In a letter to several hundred sportsmen's groups, he said he believed that anglers and hunters "will agree that a thriving, producing forest is one of the most important assets to good hunting and fishing."

Department records showed that despite a 35-day drought last fall, which left forests in extreme danger of fire, only 51,800 acres of timberland were burned, Draemel said. During October alone—when woodlands were tinder-dry—more than 600 fires were reported.

ABC Top Leaders Remain Out Front

DETROIT, March 18.—(INS)—The leaders in nearly all sections of the American Bowling Congress Tournament in Detroit continued to hold their head start today, but new names began to appear in the lower placings.

An outstanding threat to the boys at the head of the list appeared to be Richard Bishop, of Parma, O., who rolled his score up to 1876 to take over third in the all-events. Bishop, teamed with Milan Kaufman, also popped up in fifth place in the doubles. The Parma pair chalked up a 1223 to displace another Ohio duo, Merrel Heeman and Ronald Frizzell of Mt. Vernon.

The three top quintets in the team events held their own, although an up and coming Flint, Mich., team, Strohs', threatened the leadership of Peerless of Chicago. However Strohs' slipped in the final game and had to settle for fourth place.

Gus Kish and Mike Elliott of Youngstown, O., moved into the doubles lead with 1236 while Frank Biagi, of South Charleston, W. Va., continued his reign over the singles section.

$200,000,000 SPENT ANNUALLY IN STATE BY SPORTSMAN HORDE

HARRISBURG, March 18.—(INS)—The State Game Commission today informed Pennsylvania's 1,350,000 sportsmen they have been spending $200,000,000 annually in pursuit of hunting and fishing.

Individual expenditures averaged $130 a year, contributing to a national four billion dollar industry, the commission said. To continue a prosperous business and an adequate outdoor sports program in the commonwealth, conservation of natural resources and wildlife was necessary, the commission added.

In the prelim the Elks Reserves will battle the Ex-New Castle High Stars: Black, Spears, Janacone, Gribble and Fullerton.

Rojek Leading Pirate Hitters

SANTA MONICA, Cal., March 18.—(INS)—The happy rabbit Stan Rojek today led the Pirate batters in hitting at the end of seven exhibition games. Rojek, obtained from the Brooklyn Dodgers over the winter, has pounded out nine hits in 22 times at bat for an average of .409. In addition, Stan has played brilliantly in the field. Close behind Rojek in the hitting parade are Clyde Klutz and Ed. Stevens with averages of .400. Klutz's spurt has won him back the first string catcher's berth. Stevens, another acquisition from Flatbush, has the most hits, 10.

Harry L. Rownd Taken By Death

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 18.—(INS)—Harry L. Rownd, 80, one of Youngstown's most prominent and best loved citizens was dead today. Rownd had been in failing health for a long time. He went to New York for an operation for cancer of the jaw. However, his death there was caused by pneumonia. He served for many years at the volunteer chairman of the Mahoning County Red Cross chapter. Rownd, a former vice-president of Republic Iron and Steel now Republican Steel Corporation, is survived by his 103 year old father. There are more than 700 million cattle in the world.

Rev. and Mrs. Morris are former residents of this district. Preceding the showing of the pictures, music will be offered on the accordion, according to announcement by Rev. D. R.
